6. Farm Services and Inherent Risks

Some of our Services (including brush clearing/land management with livestock and experiential farm activities such as farm visits or events involving live animals) are performed on-site and involve inherent risks associated with agricultural work, uneven terrain, weather, and contact with livestock. Engagement of any such Services is subject to a separate written agreement and, where applicable, a liability waiver or release, which will govern the specific terms, risks, and responsibilities for that service. Nothing on this Site should be understood as a substitute for that separate agreement.
